North Kitsap Fishline, located in Poulsbo, WA has embarked on a search for an inspiring and skilled person to lead the organization. Fishline is an innovative organization providing key safety net services to the North Kitsap, WA community. Skilled and committed to collaboration, Fishline and its partners provide one stop for food, housing assistance, utility services, transportation, health, budgeting, employment and children’s programs in its Comprehensive Services Center.
Meeting the Community’s Needs During the Covid-19 Crisis

Fishline’s ultimate goal is to help create a community where a ‘safety net’ exists for all people, which includes adequate food, shelter, healthcare and employment.

During this challenging time, Fishline staff and volunteers have remained on the frontline and adapted services and procedures to remain safe while ensuring the hungry, homeless and unemployed of North Kitsap receive a generous box of food each week. Fishline is seeing a big spike in need while experiencing inconsistent grocery rescue from the local supermarkets, which is understandable.

Fishline’s Client Services team continues to help by remotely phoning those that who need assistance with housing, utilities, laundry and showers, and navigating available government help that is now being offered.

When asked what she’s most proud of at Fishline, one staff member said, “I am so proud of this amazing group of people who are working their hearts out with grace and compassion to serve our clients. Our community’s generosity is pouring out daily to support each other.”

ABOUT

Fishline’s small staff, over 400 volunteers, the board and clients all work to help their neighbors. Working to address homelessness, to provide food to all who need it, to assist in moving people from survival to sustainable success is the heart of Fishline.
ABOUT FISHLINE

When Fishline was founded in 1967 its primary mission was that of a food bank for the North Kitsap area. With the innovative and thoughtful leadership of its board, staff and volunteers it has become a central hub for human services in the area. Highly respected and regarded in the community, Fishline has expanded its own programs beyond the traditional food bank to include the new Healthy Foods Market, rent and mortgage assistance, medical bill assistance, firewood, homeless assistance, food delivery to homebound, Food for Thought, birthday and Christmas programs for children and case management services for clients. The market is stocked with fresh fruits and vegetables, meat, dairy, dry/canned goods, baby food and diapers. Clients are provided “fishbucks” allowing greater shopping capacity and a more welcoming, respectful environment.

The Second Season Thrift Store sells housewares, clothes and tools donated by the community and contributes more than $550,000 annually for Fishline. In 2018 the new food market concept was opened and Second Season moved to a larger space. Second Season doubled its revenue after the move.

Fishline’s Comprehensive Services Center hosts eleven other nonprofit and government agencies that provide a wide variety of social and health services. The agencies share space, with each agency on-site one to five days per week. Clients have a single point of entry close to where they live and can receive multiple services in one visit to our facility. Fishline’s new integrated, individualized case management systems allow the organization to address multiple barriers systemically using a whole-person approach. Most importantly, this model of care has shifted from helping clients survive emergencies to supporting them in making a sustained transition to living in a self-sufficient manner.

Fishline is located in Poulsbo, WA in North Kitsap County. Kitsap County sits in the picturesque central Puget Sound region of Washington State, directly between the urban areas of Seattle and Tacoma and the wilderness of the Olympic Mountains. Surrounded by the Puget Sound waterways, Kitsap County features a wide range of things to do — from outdoor recreation to wine tastings in small towns and in historic vineyards.

Poulsbo is located on beautiful Liberty Bay and is known as “Little Norway on the Fjord.” This enchanting Norwegian heritage town (population 11,180), has blossomed into a visitor destination filled with recreation and shopping opportunities. With its stunning water and mountain views, Poulsbo is as rich in natural beauty as it is in authentic Norwegian charm. Annual events include Viking Fest, Skandia Midsommarfest and Yule Fest. Go to www.visitpoulsbo.com for a complete list of events and amenities.

While Poulsbo has a thriving downtown, with its wonderful old murals, world famous bakeries, art galleries, boutiques and restaurants in the heart of the city, it is also home to high-tech businesses with worldwide clients. The largest commercial development in the county is the College Place project where Olympic College Poulsbo is located. A community proud of its heritage, it boasts a well-maintained and busy marina, beautifully appointed B&B establishments and international company offices.

The nearby communities of Silverdale and Bainbridge Island bring additional interest and beauty to the area. Although the Pacific Northwest is known for its rain, the area is actually far from one of the wettest places in the United States. Summers are gorgeous with mid-70 to 80 degree weather and mild winters occasionally see a few days of snow. The region provides the absolute perfect destination for snow and water sports, plus golf, hiking and camping.
